

I Claim:

1. A hair fastener for use in styling hair of a human being comprising:
a zigzag member having a series of substantially sharp angles spread out in alternate directions; and,

a wave-like shape formed at each end of said zigzag member;

whereby, the zigzag member is placed into a section of hair to secure.

2. The hair fastener of claim 1 wherein said zigzag member is substantially the same width throughout.

3. The hair fastener of claim 1 wherein a decorative member is attached by attaching means to at least one bend of the zigzag member.

4. A hair fastener for use in styling hair of a human being comprising:
a zigzag member having a series of substantially sharp angles spread out
in alternate directions; and,

a bobby pin integrally formed at each end of said zigzag member;

whereby, said hair fastener is placed into a section of hair to secure.

5. The hair fastener of claim 4 wherein said zigzag member is substantially the same width throughout.

6. The hair fastener of claim 4 wherein a decorative member is attached by attaching means to at least one bend of the zigzag member.
